

STOP Housing Discrimination in Monroe County!

Fair Housing is the Law

Help Us Find Realtors and Landlords that have Discriminatory Practices in Selling or Renting Homes, Property or Apartments

Pennsylvania Human Relations Commission (PHRC)
Needs Volunteers for Housing Testing

Certification Training will be Held on:
September 3, 2009 from 5:30pm to 7:00pm

Loder Senior Center at 62 Analomink Street
East Stroudsburg, PA

Pre-registration required by August 28th
Call or email Laurie at 570-296-2276 or laurie@veneziale.net

The Monroe County Advisory Council to the PHRC will start housing testing later this year to assess if local housing providers (e.g., realtors, landlords) are complying with the state nondiscrimination laws. Volunteers for the housing testing do not need to be familiar with the codes, laws or be actors. Essentially, volunteers inquire and look at a house/apartment, are observant and collect information. Two or three separate tests are done for each house/apartment and any potential problems are turned over to PHRC to investigate. The testing volunteers may also need to testify in court about their role but only if the case actually goes to court.

For more information, call Marty at 717-787-9025 or TTY 717-787-7279.